PRESS RELEASE

Person of Interest Named in Caln Homicide

Chester County District Attorney Tom Hogan named Deviane Scott, 19 years old, as a person of interest in the Caln homicide of Joseph Durham.

Scott lived at 3 Thorndale Place in Caln Township with his mother, Michele Durham, and Joseph Durham. Joseph Durham was married to Michele Durham.

On June 10, Michele Durham called to report a physical altercation between her son and her husband at their residence. When police were able to enter the residence, they discovered that Scott had fled with a gun. The victim, Joseph Durham, had been shot multiple times and was dead.

During the course of the investigation today, Scott spoke with the police via telephone and stated that he would turn himself in at the Caln Township Police Department. However, Scott failed to appear at the Caln PD.

Numerous attempts to contact Scott led to no positive results. Scott is considered armed and dangerous. He is wanted for questioning in the homicide of Joseph Durham.

District Attorney Hogan stated, "We are following all leads to track down Scott. By staying on the run, Scott is putting himself, the police, and the general public in grave danger. In addition, the longer Scott fails to come in, the guiltier he looks. Scott and his family need to make arrangements for Scott to turn himself in peacefully and safely.”

Anybody with information should contact the Chester County Detectives at (610) 692-5100 or the Caln Police Department at (610) 383-1821.
