Internal Audit has audited the accounts of the Chester County Prison Correctional Center (Center) as of December 31, 2006, and has compiled the attached Statement of Assets and Liabilities and the related Statement of Cash Receipts, Disbursements and Cash Balances for the year then ended. It is Internal Audit's responsibility to annually audit the accounts of the Center and to report the results of such audits to the Chester County Prison Board, the Chester County Prison management, and the Correctional Center management. It is management's responsibility to maintain, update, and reconcile these accounts on a continuous basis.

Our audit was conducted in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the Government Auditing Standards issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit in a manner that will provide reasonable assurance that the accounts are free of material misstatement and that amounts are properly supported and approved.

As described in Note 1, the accompanying financial statements are prepared on the cash basis of accounting, which is a comprehensive basis of accounting other than generally accepted accounting principles. Accordingly, the statements referred to above are not intended to present the financial position and results of operations of the Center in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

In our opinion, the accounts of the Center are stated fairly as of December 31, 2006. Consequently, the corresponding financial statements prepared by Internal Audit present fairly, in all material respects, the assets and liabilities of the Center as of December 31, 2006, and the cash receipts, disbursements, and cash balances for the year then ended.

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, Internal Audit has also issued a report dated June 26, 2007, on our consideration of the Center's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, policies and/or procedures. That report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards and is to be read in conjunction with this report in considering the results of our audit.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
FOR THE YEAR ENDED DECEMBER 31, 2006

Note 1 – Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Background and Reporting Entity

The Center's checking account serves as an escrow account for all inmates (residents) on work release assignment. As monies are earned, the monies are deposited into individual sub-accounts, which in aggregate comprise the overall checking account balance. Each week administrative fees (i.e. activity fees, room and board fees, fines and costs, urinalysis fees, job fees) are deducted from each resident's account and at month-end these administrative fees are disbursed to either the County of Chester, Adult Probation, and/or the Inmate Welfare Fund. Remaining funds may be disbursed to the residents, disbursed to the families of the residents to maintain household expenditures, or may remain in escrow. Consequently, any undisbursed funds held in escrow represent a liability to the Center.

Basis of Accounting

The books and records of the Center are maintained on the cash basis of accounting. Consequently, receipts are recognized when received rather than when earned, and disbursements are recognized when paid rather than when incurred. Accordingly, the accompanying statements do not present the assets, liabilities, receipts, disbursements, and undisbursed funds in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP).

Note 3 – Legal Matters

Our audit disclosed no pending litigation involving the Correctional Center or its Manager (Robert J. Cochlin) for the year ended December 31, 2006.

Report on Compliance and on Internal Controls Over Financial Reporting

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, the scope of our audit included an examination and evaluation of the adequacy and effectiveness of the Center's system of internal control and the Center's quality of performance in carrying out its assigned responsibilities. The primary objectives of internal controls include the following:

- Compliance with policies, procedures, laws and regulations
- Accomplishment of goals
- Reliability and integrity of information
- Economical and efficient use of resources
- Safeguarding of assets.

In addition, generally accepted auditing standards (GAAS) require that auditors obtain an understanding of the internal control process and assess control risk in financial statement audits. For a financial statement audit, internal control is defined as a process that is designed to provide reasonable assurance that objectives regarding the reliability of financial reporting, the effectiveness and efficiency of operations, and the compliance with applicable laws and regulations are achieved. The internal control process consists of five components. They are the control environment, risk assessment, information and communication, monitoring, and control activities.

The control environment sets the tone of the organization and is the foundation for all other components of internal control. The collective effect of various important factors defines the control environment, which in turn establishes, enhances, or mitigates the effectiveness of policies and procedures. These important factors include the entity's organizational structure and methods of assigning authority and responsibility.

The risk assessment is the entity's identification and analysis of relevant risks to the achievement of its objectives, and forms a basis for determining how the risks should be managed.

Information and communication are the identification, capture, and exchange of information in a form and time frame that enables people to carry out their responsibilities.

Monitoring is a process that assesses the quality of internal control performance over time.

Report on Compliance and on Internal Controls Over Financial Reporting

Control activities are the policies and procedures that help ensure management directives are carried out. These policies and procedures may be classified as:

- Authorization
- Segregation of duties
- Documentation
- Physical safeguards
- Independent checks and balances.

Our audit disclosed no significant weaknesses that, in our opinion, pose a significant risk to the Center or the County of Chester.

A finding of lesser significance in the area of compliance, specifically:

- Compliance with department policies/procedures with respect to cash disbursements has been addressed under separate cover with the management of the Center for its action and/or response. Copies of the Management Letter will be made available upon request.

This report is intended for the information of the Chester County Prison Board, Chester County Prison management, and the Center's management. This report is, however, a matter of public record, and its distribution is not limited.
